Local Community Bank, Summit State Bank, announces a brand refresh

Santa Rosa, CA – (January 17, 2019) – Summit State Bank (NASDAQ: SSBI), one of Sonoma County’s leading community banks, has announced a brand refresh.

The updated brand identity includes a new logo, as well as updated colors and fonts to reflect the dynamic community bank it has evolved into today. The Bank celebrated its 37th year on January 1st and has grown from its modest roots as Summit Savings and Loan Association when it opened in 1982 in Rohnert Park, CA to a $595M community bank, headquartered in Santa Rosa, CA.

“We’re refreshing our brand to better reflect how we are keeping pace with the ever-changing banking industry and the ways people do their banking. We are investing in technology to make banking simple and offering the latest products and services. We have expanded our Small Business Administration lending program and have continued our support of Sonoma County Women in Conversation.

Our new look better matches our unique position as a community - focused bank that is committed to investing in our employees, customers and community. One of our strengths is our culture of caring for each other, our customers and community. As we grow and seek to attract new customers, we are dedicated to do our part to sustain the beautiful place we live, work and raise our families,” states Jim Brush, President and Chief Executive Officer.

Presenting Summit State Bank’s new logo:

We chose a clean, modern, sans serif font for ease of readability.

In the coming months, we will continue to implement the brand refresh across the organization. We invite you to visit summitstatebank.com to explore our newly updated website and learn more about Summit State Bank.
